Patent litigation in Japan, Germany and before the Unified Patent Court is developing at remarkable speed. The first years of the UPC have already produced important procedural and substantive guidance, while recent decisions in Germany and Japan continue to shape core issues of patent enforcement, validity and cross-border litigation. This makes comparative exchange between the Japanese, German and UPC patent litigation communities more valuable than ever.

This International Symposium 2026 brings together experienced judges, practitioners and experts from Japan, Germany and the UPC, to present and discuss central developments in patent litigation across these jurisdictions. Since 2009, the symposium has been held six times, alternating between Munich and Tokyo. This year, the organizers are delighted to bring it back to Munich as a forum for dialogue between Japan, Germany and the UPC.
