Weather and General Info:

Boom, Belgium in September typically has mild, early-autumn weather, with comfortable daytime temperatures and cooler mornings and evenings. Rain is possible throughout the month, so attendees should be prepared for changing conditions.

Average Weather in September

Temperature: Daytime highs typically average around 18–20°C (64–68°F), with nighttime lows around 10–12°C (50–54°F).

Rainfall: Rain showers are fairly common and can occur throughout the month. A waterproof jacket or compact umbrella is recommended.

Daylight: September still offers a good amount of daylight, although days gradually become shorter as autumn approaches.

What to Pack

Layering: Bring layers that can easily be added or removed as temperatures change throughout the day.

Outerwear: A light waterproof jacket or raincoat is recommended. A sweater or light jacket is useful for cooler mornings and evenings.

Footwear: Comfortable shoes are recommended, especially if you plan to explore Brussels, Antwerp, or the surrounding area.

Accessories: A compact umbrella can be useful, along with a light scarf for cooler evenings

Lab of Tomorrow is located near the iconic festival grounds in Boom, here's how to find your way:

By Car: You'll find us at Hoek 76, Unit 200, 2850 Boom, right next to Provinciaal Recreatiedomein De Schorre. Easily accessible via the A12 (Antwerp–Brussels) or E19 highways, just follow the signs for Boom / De Schorre. Once you reach Kapelstraat, you'll see the Lab of Tomorrow building in front of parking P2 of De Schorre.

Parking: Parking is available directly in front of the building. Please ring the bell and we'll open the gate for you. If the parking is full, you can find free parking nearby along Schommelei or Kapelstraat, all within a few minutes' walk.

By Public Transport: From Antwerp or Brussels: Take the train to Boom Station (approximately 25 minutes from Antwerp or 35 minutes from Brussels). From the station, it's about a 15-minute walk to Lab of Tomorrow through the scenic De Schorre park.

Prefer the bus? Take line 182, 183, or 295 and get off at the De Schorre stop, just a few minutes from our entrance.

By Bike: Cycling to Lab of Tomorrow is a great option, we're located along several beautiful cycling routes. Bike racks are available at the entrance, and we also provide a secure bike depot and showers if you'd like to freshen up after your ride.

If you're coming from Boom Station, it's an easy 5-minute cycle through the park.

What to expect upon arrival:

- Coffee, breakfast snack, fruit, juice, water, soda, and a wide variety of snacks will be available all day, every day of training.
- ModTruss will provide lunch on both Thursday and Friday, as well as dinner on Thursday evening. There will be no shortage of food or snacks available.
- Please let us know if you have any dietary needs or restrictions. We will be happy to accommodate you.
- Gift bag to include items and possibly prizes. (Save a little space in your luggage.)
- Dress code: Casual. Wear comfortable shoes without high heels.
- Parking: Parking is available directly in front of the building. Please ring the bell and we'll open the gate for you. If the parking is full, you can find free parking nearby along Schommelei or Kapelstraat, all within a few minutes' walk.
- ADA access and parking If you require accessible parking or other accessibility accommodations, please contact jeroen.carette@ModTruss.com in advance so arrangements can be confirmed with the venue
- EV Charging: Electric vehicle charging stations are available on site. Availability is limited and subject to occupancy.
- Front door access: Upon arrival, please ring the bell at the entrance for access. A member of the Lab of Tomorrow team will open the gate.
