

SAHIH - General Policy

Privacy, Terms of Use, Content and Service Policy

1. Introduction

Welcome to SAHIH. This General Policy explains the principles and terms that apply when you use the SAHIH application, website, and related services. By using SAHIH, you agree to use the service responsibly and in accordance with this policy and applicable law.

2. Purpose of SAHIH

SAHIH is an Islamic companion designed to make useful Islamic resources and tools accessible in one place. Features may include Qur'an content, source-grounded Islamic information, Qibla tools, Islamic learning resources, and other related functionality. Features may change, improve, or be removed as the app develops.

3. Islamic Content and Accuracy

SAHIH aims to present Islamic content carefully and, where applicable, with identifiable sources. However, the app is an informational and educational tool and should not be treated as a replacement for a qualified scholar, mufti, imam, or other appropriate authority when a matter requires a formal religious ruling or individualized guidance.

Translations, explanations, search results, AI-generated responses, and supporting information can contain limitations or errors. Users should review the cited source and seek qualified guidance when accuracy is especially important.

4. AI Features

Some SAHIH features may use artificial intelligence. AI output is generated automatically and may occasionally be incomplete, inaccurate, or misunderstand a question. Where SAHIH provides source-grounded answers, users should rely on the displayed sources rather than treating generated wording itself as an independent religious authority.

5. Privacy

SAHIH is designed with privacy in mind. The app should request access only to information or device capabilities needed for the features the user chooses to use. Depending on the feature, this may include permissions such as location, camera, microphone, or other device functionality. Permission requests should be presented by the operating system and can be managed through device settings.

SAHIH does not claim ownership of personal content merely because a user interacts with the service. Information should not be collected, retained, or shared beyond what is reasonably necessary to provide, secure, maintain, or improve the service, comply with law, or as otherwise clearly disclosed to the user.

6. Device Permissions and Location

Features such as Qibla guidance may depend on device sensors, location information, camera access, compass calibration, or environmental conditions. Results can therefore vary by device and circumstances. Users remain responsible for checking that device permissions and calibration are appropriate when relying on these tools.

7. Third-Party and External Services

SAHIH may rely on Apple services, operating-system capabilities, external sources, or other third-party technology. Those services may be governed by their own terms and privacy practices. SAHIH is not responsible for independent third-party services that it does not control.

8. Acceptable Use

You may use SAHIH for lawful personal purposes. You must not misuse the service, attempt unauthorized access, interfere with its operation, reverse engineer protected parts where prohibited by law, use the service to harm others, or use automated methods in a way that damages or materially disrupts the service.

9. Intellectual Property

The SAHIH name, branding, interface, original designs, software, and original content are protected by applicable intellectual-property laws. Qur'anic text, cited religious works, translations, images, audio, and other materials may have separate ownership or licensing conditions, and their respective rights remain with the applicable rights holders.

10. Availability and Changes

SAHIH may be updated, changed, suspended, or discontinued in whole or in part. We do not guarantee that every feature will always be available, uninterrupted, error-free, or compatible with every device or operating-system version.

11. Disclaimer

SAHIH is provided on an as-available basis. To the extent permitted by applicable law, no guarantee is made that every result, calculation, translation, AI response, source presentation, or other piece of information will be completely accurate or suitable for every individual circumstance. Nothing in SAHIH constitutes legal, medical, financial, or other regulated professional advice.

12. Limitation of Liability

To the extent permitted by applicable law, SAHIH and its operators will not be liable for indirect, incidental, special, consequential, or similar losses arising from use of, inability to use, or reliance on the service. Nothing in this policy excludes rights or liability that cannot legally be excluded.

13. Children's Use

SAHIH may contain educational material suitable for a broad audience, but parents and guardians remain responsible for supervising a child's use of the app where required. The service should not knowingly request unnecessary personal information from children.

14. Changes to This Policy

This General Policy may be revised as SAHIH develops, its features change, or legal requirements evolve. An updated version may be published in the app or on the official SAHIH website. Continued use after an updated policy becomes effective constitutes acceptance to the extent permitted by law.
